

Answer:

6a. Weblaw

A cooperative subject gateway to Internet resources. Sites are assessed by Australian law librarians from participating organisations includes resources on Transnational crime.

6b. Globalex has been developed at the New York University School of Law. Foreign Law Research included guides to finding law and legal information resources from a wide range of countries and International Law houses a number of guides including "International Criminal Courts for the Former Yugoslavia, Rwanda and Sierra Leone: A Guide to Online and Print Resources" and "A research guide to cases and materials on Terrorism".