
Historical Note: Samuel Cocks was a professional photographer who operated a photographic studio in Manning Street, Kiama from the 1890s to the 1920s. Copies of his scenic photographs were used in numerous tourist publications and postcards of the era.
A significant amount of his business involved photographing dairy cattle belonging to local farmers. Some of these photographs were used by Francis (Frank) McCaffrey in his publications First Century of Dairying (1909) and History of Illawarra and its Pioneers (1924).
The Cocks Collection comprises over 800 glass plate negatives, taken by Mr Cocks and other local photographers, depicting the landscape, architecture, and people of Kiama and the surrounding South Coast district.
The collection was deposited with the Archives in the early 1980s on loan from the Weston family of Kiama.

Record Summary: Photographic records – Glass plate negatives

Date Range: c.1890 – c.1930s

Quantity: 3.6 m (Approximately 800 items)

Access Conditions: Available for reference. Contact Archivist in advance to arrange access.

Note: Number in brackets (...) following title indicates original negative number.
Letter [D] following title indicates glass plate negative has suffered some degree of damage to the emulsion or, in some cases, breakage of the glass.

Viewing Online: Many images from the Cocks Collection are available for viewing online on the Wollongong City Library's Illawarra Images website. For more information refer to the Archives’ linking web page at: http://www.library.uow.edu.au/archives/collections/UOW095483.html
The digital images are faithful reproductions from the original negatives; i.e. damaged images have not been cropped or altered to hide flaws.
The digitisation project was made possible with the support of the Weston family, IMB Community Foundation, Mr Michael Cole, Pillar Administration, Wollongong City Library and University of Wollongong.
